

3rd-5th Grade Performance Information Packet: Spring 2022

Welcome to our spring season! We at Wolf Performing Arts Center are thrilled to welcome everyone back to a spring of creative, connected theater. As we continue the theme of “Pave Your Own Path,” we are inspired by the unlikely heroes of our spring musicals who aren’t afraid to blaze a trail of their very own! We can’t wait to get started!

As always, the health and safety of our Wolf PAC performers and families is paramount. We adhere to the following guidelines:

- Rehearsals and performances will be onsite for these productions. (If for any reason we need to move to a virtual platform, we will communicate that information to everyone involved.)
- We are hopeful that during this process, we will be able to lift some of our masking restrictions. Until then, regardless of vaccination status, anyone who enters the Wolf PAC building is required to wear a mask when indoors.
- Each Director will plan a fully realized production with a performance that will be open to audience members onsite. We will communicate with families closer to performance time if audience sizes still need to be reduced for COVID reasons.
- For more information about masks and other protocol, our Safety Guidelines are explained here.

*Please read below for specific information about *The Little Mermaid JR!

Rehearsals are from the week of January 24th through the week of June 6th.*

There are no rehearsals the week of April 11th due to spring break.

There will be one weekend rehearsal during this process. Your Director will reach out regarding that rehearsal when you have been placed in a cast.*
